“GOOD DESIGN IS ABOUT CREATING A DIALOGUE BETWEEN
THE PAST AND THE PRESENT.”

ROBERT A.M. STERN (1939)

Campaign

Campaign is our largest and longest-running group, encompassing a variety of portable furniture designed for travel. Primary inspiration for this group was drawn from surviving examples of the high-quality foldable furniture used in Napoleon Bonaparte's continental campaigns throughout the nineteenth century and by British officers during the Gregorian and Victorian periods (1714-1901). These include items like small chests, folding seats, and portable wash basins — all of which can be unscrewed so that all parts can be easily packed and transported.

True to this tradition, and with our own twist, our campaign furniture are instantly recognizable by their "knock-down" functionality. Brass caps on the tops of legs, unusually placed hinges, and protruding bolts and x-frame legs are staples of this group, and together they make up the functionality of our campaign pieces. Our own twist is to add refinements and embellishments to the rugged demeanor of this particular style of furniture — without the often necessary compromises made to portability. To do this we adorn campaign pieces with intricate and ornate combination of locks, corners, belts, and rivets — all of which are crafted unto to a mahogany frame that comes in a variety of unique laminates and finishes.

“THE ESSENCE OF INTERIOR DESIGN
WILL ALWAYS BE ABOUT
PEOPLE AND HOW THEY LIVE.”

ALBERT HADLEY (1920)

Orient Express

Named after the world's most luxurious long-distance train, Orient Express is our premier line of work. With exotic and hand-tipped leather, brass lamps, cocktail trunks, martini tables, drinks boxes, and bar cases, this group represents the apex of luxury. This group of furniture draws direct inspiration from the gleaming woodworks, opulent seating, and lavish bedrooms that furnished luxury trains during the so-called "golden age of travel" — a period from the late nineteenth up to the turn of the twentieth century in which long-distance travel was the exclusive domain of the rich and powerful. Our focus here is in adapting the furniture of the historical Orient Express to the modern day.

“DESIGN IS A CONSTANT CHALLENGE TO BALANCE COMFORT WITH LUXE, THE PRACTICAL WITH THE DESIRABLE.”

DONNA KARAN (1948)

Voyager

Voyager is the maritime counterpart to the Campaign group. Whereas the Campaign group is designed to knock-down for ease of travel on land, the design of this line of seagoing furnishings allows items to adapt to the cramped quarters available on ship. It represents our synthesis of classical nautical design concepts, particularly those found on luxurious cruises, and the functionality of nineteenth century British naval furniture. And so, the items we offer here are those one might find in classical luxurious cruises, such as picnic cases and cabin fixtures. However, in a nod to the naval style, whose fiddle-rail design prevented furniture from slipping off-deck, these items also feature a side rail detail that represents a crafted sail boat exterior deck trim.

“COLOR IS THE PLACE WHERE OUR BRAIN AND THE UNIVERSE MEET.”

PAUL KLEE (1879-1940)

Boho

We adapted the characteristics of Bohemian design to create these free-spirited, unconventional, and eclectic items. The items featured in this line utilize eclectic color palettes, elaborate stitching and lacing, global influences, and well-worn and naturalistic finishes. They are designed for lounging purposes; some are low to the ground, created using natural materials, and, in some cases, equipped with minimal cushioning. Given these features, the boho line lends itself to maximalist settings defined by, among other things, a lack of structure, a warm and earthy backdrop, ambient lighting, and the presence of botanicals, accessories, trinkets, and the like.

SIMPLICITY
IS DANCE

“DESIGN IS NOT FOR PHILOSOPHY,
IT'S FOR LIFE.”

ISSEY MIYAKE (1971)

Dojo

With Dojo, we turned eastwards for inspiration — towards the meditation halls of Zen Buddhists and the gymnasias of Japanese martial arts, notably aikidō, jūdō, and karate-dō. Behind this pivot was our desire to venture out of the world of knock-down fixtures and create items that lend themselves to formal training and immersive learning — be it in meditation, martial arts, or basic wellness. Incorporating leather craft with tatami mats, hand-crafted wooden furniture, and traditional vaulting equipment of gymnastic spec, Dojo offers as much of an experience as it does furniture. Keeping true to the spirit of dōjō (lit. “place of the way”), the assemblage of items offered here together create a suitable environment for the mastery of one’s own discipline.

“THE BEST WAY TO
PREDICT THE FUTURE IS TO DESIGN IT.”

BUCKMINSTER FULLER (1895-1983)

Club

Over the last twenty years, we have worked closely with the Professional Golfer's Association of America (PGA) and their affiliates as the official furnishing supplier. The PGA endorses us to its membership country clubs to refurbish their locker rooms, pro shops, and players lounge. A notable highlight in our long partnership with the PGA has been our role in building personal lockers awarded to the winners of the four Major Gold Tournaments and other prestigious, but smaller, tournaments. One such locker was made for none other than Tiger Woods for his participation in the 2007 PGA Grand Slam of Golf in Mid Ocean Club, Bermuda.

“THE ROLE OF THE DESIGNER IS THAT OF A
GOOD, THOUGHTFUL HOST ANTICIPATING
THE NEEDS OF HIS GUEST.”

CHARLES EAMES (1907-1978)

Hospitality

Hospitality is the culmination of our long history of furnishing several of the world's finest resorts, hotels, and country clubs — such as the Blakes Hotel (London), Palace Hotel (San Francisco), the Nomad (Los Angeles and New York City, respectively), and Hotel Jerome (Colorado). Previously an appendage of the Golf group, Hospitality emerged as its own category once it became clear that the sheer scale of many of our recent contracts requires substantial investments in productivity and efficiency, not to mention consistency and quality control. Covering bars, wine trolleys, ice buckets, dining tables and chairs, the items we make for this group are items intended for commercial use; accordingly they are transportable, with many mounted on wheels. And as such, hospitality occupies a privileged place in our catalogue because it is by far the most public-facing of all the groups of furniture. Lending itself to servicing large numbers of people, be it in corporate outings, professional retreats, or family vacations, the emphasis here is on designing furniture that are durable and transportable, without sacrificing quality and attention to detail. And as a manufacturer of campaign furniture, this is our raison d'être. Hospitality is our economy of scale; it is G&G writ large.

MATERIALS

We use only the highest quality and most sustainable materials available.

Leather

Our leather hides are sourced worldwide. An affiliate tannery processes and embosses the hides, which are then hand-tipped in our facility. And with the latest skiving machines, we craft the leather into components and ultimately the finished product.

Metal

Our hardware is forged from a variety of different metals in our machine shop. We use the strongest of metals — be it black iron, 304 stainless steel, or brass — to craft every nail, bolt, fitting, and lock that goes into our furniture. Our hardware is used not only to stabilize the furniture, but also to stylize them. And so, we take care to augment our hardware with enhanced metal finishes, typically through electroplating and powder coating, to minimize corrosion and oxidation.

Wood

We use only the hardest and most sustainable woods available to us. Fortunately for us, we operate in a locale where mahogany, recognized worldwide as one of the most durable and robust woods, is abundant. Our items are made using government-certified indigenous plantation-grade, kiln-dried, mahogany. Each plank of wood is treated naturally for insects and mold.

Organic Materials

Hand woven split full peel rattan, braided abaca, hand loomed raffia, and Portuguese cork.
